Ten-Year-Old Boy Saves Sister From Drowning

LAC LA BICHE—What could have resulted in a tragic accident was averted by the quick thinking of a 10-year-old boy on a recent Tuesday evening at Mission Beach, when Darrel Lett rescued his eight-year-old sister Dianne after she went over her depth in Lac la Biche.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lett and their children had enjoyed a swim in the lake and were preparing to return home. Howard left the children at the water's edge to turn the car around in preparation for the homeward journey. Dianne decided to have one more try at floating but apparently got beyond her depth and disappeared from sight. Though unable to swim, Darrell screamed for his father and rushed into the water to rescue his sister. He dragged her from the water and was blowing into her mouth to revive her when his father returned to the scene. It was several anxious moments before Mr. Lett, using mouth to mouth resuscitation, was able to revive the little girl.

Darrel is to be commended for his bravery and presence of mind.

Civil Servants And Families Hold Golf Tournament, Picnic

LAC LA BICHE — The Civil Servants' Association Branch No. 30 of Lac la Biche held its first Golf Tournament Sunday, July 29 with 12 participants.

Gordon Lee of the Fish and Game Department and Joe Phillips of the Highways Department won the trophies.

A family picnic was enjoyed in conjunction with the tournament. The affair proved so successful, it is planned to make it an annual event.

New Culverts, Road Work Crews Improve Highway Conditions

They've touched bottom on the road to Lac la Biche. Not only that the Alberta Department of Highways is now at work to keep it that way.

Last week papers in this area mentioned the terrible road conditions, especially near Donatville, north of Boyle. Cars were stalling in three feet of water thirty feet wide and the muddy, unpaved 'highway' was generally impassable.

The Department of Highways has begun emergency work to correct the situation. Culverts have been installed and gravelling begun. The roads are looking and driving better already.

Lac la Biche constituency is the only one in Alberta without any paved roads.

Fifteen miles of new grade is being built in the constituency every year on Highway 46. It will take until 1967 to reach Lac la Biche at this rate.

Local Golf Club Plans Tournament For Eighty Players

The Lac la Biche Golf Club will hold its second annual open golf tournament on Sunday, August 19 starting at 9 a.m. The entry is being limited to 80 golfers and the entry fee is $2.50 per golfer. Local non-club members will be required to pay the day's green fees of $1.00 in addition to their entry fee. The tournament will be played in flights of eight with three prizes in each flight. All entries must be in the hands of Dr. D. D. Bouvier by 6 p.m. on August 16.

Phone, write, or wire to Dr. D. D. Bouvier, Box 510, Lac la Biche. Phone: office 149, residence X606.

TB X-Ray Unit To Hold Clinic At Lac La Biche

LAC LA BICHE—Plans are being made for a TB X-Ray Clinic to be held in the Lac La Biche area served by the Athabasca Health Unit the end of September, J. Anderson, director of X-Ray Survey for the province of Alberta, was present at an organizational meeting here recently.

Since department of health statistics show the Athabasca Health Unit to have three times as many tuberculosis cases as any other health unit in Alberta, Mr. Anderson stressed that it is of the utmost importance that the clinic reach every man, woman and child in the district.

E. J. Woynarowich was appointed general chairman of the committee. Mrs. Mary Hamar is in charge of advance registration; Mrs. J. Booker, clinic appointments; Mrs. Mary Rizzoli, publicity and Mrs. Marshall Hamar, volunteer help.

Clinics will be held at Hylo, Plamondon, Big Bay, Barnegat, Rich Lake, Craigend, Owl River and other points at well as in Lac la Biche.

RCMP Constable Kenny And Family Honored

LAC LA BICHE — R.C.M.P. Corp. J. Kenny has been transferred to St. Paul and left the first of the month for his new posting. Before their departure, Corp. and Mrs. Kenny were honored by their friends at a farewell party. The popular couple were presented with a lovely lamp.

The Kenny's, who came here a year ago from Jasper, were active in community affairs and Corp. Kenny had been elected president of the Home and School Association for the coming year. Their friends wish them happiness in their new home.

Const. Al. Dirks of Westlock will be replacing Corp. Kenny. The Dirk family will arrive this week.

The risk of milk fever in sows may be decreased by not milking them out completely for the first three days after they have calved.

Camp McGrane Scene Of Explorer's Club Camping Excursion

LAC LA BICHE — Warm sunny weather was enjoyed by members of the Explorers' Club when they camped for a wek at Camp McGrane.

Sponsored by the United Church, 10 girls attended along with Mrs. Harold Mawson, director; Miss V. Stan, leader; Mrs. Howard Lett, assistant leader and Miss Nina McDonald of Viking, swimming instructor.

Bible classes were held each morning with the afternoon given over to sports. Vesper services were held each evening. Sheila Mawson won the prize for Bible study and Judy Chester won the prize for the best table manners during camp.

Waterbury Ladies Guests Of Sister

Mrs. Manda Champagne of Waterbury, Conn., and Mrs. Bernie Corbin, of Hartford, Conn., sisters of Mrs. Ida Gregoire, are visiting with their sister in Lac la Biche.

Atmore Ladies Attend X-Ray Unit Meeting

Mrs. Genoud, Mrs. Heatherington and Mrs. Karpetz attended a meeting in Grassland where Mr. J. H. Anderson, director of surveys Alberta Tuberculosis Association, made preliminary arrangements for the Chest X-ray Unit which will visit Grassland early in September. All are urged to have their registration cards filled in. The service is free and will safeguard themselves and their families.

The cost of staffing and operating these mobile X-ray units is borne equally by the provincial government and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. The X-ray equipment and vehicle are supplied to the government by the TB Association out of the proceeds from sale of Christmas seals.

Lac la Biche Hotel Changes Ownership

The York Hotel, of Lac la Biche has changed ownership and is now owned and operated by Laventure Bros. Hotel Enterprises Ltd. John Kozak, a partner in the former company, has retained his interest in the business, while two brothers, Leo and Vic Laventure, complete the partnership.

The Laventure Brothers are from Marcelin, Sask., where they were in the hotel business. When interviewed, Vic Laventure thought he would like Lac la Biche, but was not happy about the rainy weather.

Alberta Safety Council Warns Chronic Speeders

Chronic speeding seems to have infected Alberta drivers this summer, the Provincial Safety Council reported recently.

"It seems common," a spokesman said, "to see lines of traffic consistently moving above the speed limit, both on city streets and on the open highways."

He added: "It almost seems as though the legal speed is being regarded as the minimum speed. It is a dangerous attitude."

In actual fact, of course, legal speed limits are meant for ideal driving conditions. "In some cases, a speed of 40 miles an hour or even less may be dangerous on the highway," his statement continued. "With very few exceptions, anything more than 30 is dangerous in an urban area."

"And whatever the power and stability of a car, it is an offence to increase speed to 70 or 80 miles an hour in order to overtake a vehicle travelling at the legal highway speed of 60 or 65 miles an hour."

For safer and more relaxed driving, the Alberta Safety Council says "Slow Down — Slow Down And Enjoy Alberta."

GREEN ACRES

By Fred Strashok, District Agriculturist

Canada Thistle and Sow Thistle have been on the increase in the district for the last two years. Many farmers have had a hard time controlling these because of the wet weather. However, precautions have to be taken for the future and some of the things that may be done are listed below:

1. If you have not sprayed the crop before the shot blade stage, see that spraying is done after the crops have finished blooming. Good control of thistles may be acquired if you spray them when they bud or bloom. Use 2,4-D at as high a rate as the crops will tolerate.

2. In summerfallow—spray at the rate of at least 16 ounces acid per acre. Remember that you are not concerned about crop damage on land that is summerfallowed. Resume cultivation two or three weeks after spraying. A combined chemical and cultural fallow will go a long way in controlling Canada and Sow thistle.

3. Plan your cropping of fields so that if any thistles appear in the ensuing crops that they may be sprayed to give them the final blow.

4. The use of competitive crops must not be overlooked. Crops that get well established and grow rapidly smother the weed growth. Therefore the use of fertilizers with seeding of crops must be considered.

5. Good management of fields is another step in the right direction. If you do a job of tillage, let it be thorough; if you spray—use the right amount of chemical and do it thoroughly at the right time; if you grow crops—use the kind of crop that will compete with the weed—e.g no use growing flax on thistle infested fields—flax is a poor competitor.

All in all we would like you, as operator of the land, to put an all-out effort for the control of Canada and Sow thistle. Your full co-operation will help everyone in the district to do better.

(a) To grow better crops.

(b) To control weeds.

(c) To control Canada and Sow thistle.

Rodeo Proves Outstanding Event

Thousands Flock To Plamondon To Enjoy Thrilling Program

By HENRY THOMPSON

The Plamondon rodeo, rained out a week previous, was finally scheduled for July 22 and 23. Cars and farm trucks covered three acres of land around the arena corrals.

I am advised that the gate receipts for the first day's show exceeded 2,200 people and I estimate that there were well over 1,200 adults attending the second day. There were over 150 cars parked when the program began that second day and I was too busy to continue the count.

This splendid project was made a reality by free community labor and donations of material by others who did not do any of the actual work. It took the labor of from 18 to 20 men on full time to complete the work in time for the first advertised opening. However, they were assisted by a sports grant by the provincial government which was used to level off the ground which covers some five acres of land.

The corrals, grandstand, stock loading facilities, including an intricate set of holding corrals, six bucking chutes and an arena that is 60 by 90 yards in extent make, in my opinion, a set-up that need take no second place with any rodeo set-up in Alberta. The corrals are made out of peeled spruce poles and tamarack posts, so solidly set in the ground that the rain-proof grandstand above the six bucking chutes below is scarcely affected. Though the fighting buckers below do everything in their power to make it tough for the handlers who ready the broncs for their arena activities.

The tremendous amount of work involved in this project speaks well for the community spirit retained by the descendants of those early pioneers who first landed in the area three decades ago. The community spirit and co-operation as exemplified in this big project so well done by this small hamlet is an accomplishment Plamondon can be proud of and to which any district within a 50-mile radius can share with pleasure.

Under the enthusiastic and determined efforts of Ross Plamondon and his committee their unstinted efforts have made a dream come true. We wish them well and trust to share in their generous and friendly treatment of all who attended their first annual rodeo another day and another year.

The four-hour afternoon program on each day of the two days, was filled with thrills and excitement. From the grand entry of riders, officials and participants who entered separately from the north gate and were introduced to the crowd by loudspeaker so efficiently handled by that famous announcer, Peter Ermineskin, who acclaims himself a Red Skin Indian and proud of the fact.

The man's fluency in the use of English and his continuous flow of information about each rider and his mount as the events were called, his deep sense of humor was a great help to the audience His explanations of rules and regulations covering each event, I am sure, made rodeo fans out of many who attended this show. When Peter quit riding and started announcing, he found his most useful place.

Twenty riders came from all parts of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia to pit their skill and courage against the tough bucking horses in the McDonald Bros. string. From my high view on the grandstand, it must have been tough for the two judges chosen by the riders to pick winners from such an aggregation of experienced cow punchers. However, judging by the lack of complaints by the riders when the final figures for winners was announced, they must have done a good job. Having had some experience of bronc busters in general, I can credit these boys as the best sports and gentlemen I have ever met.

Geronimo, a new bucker that I mistook for Blue Mountain, as he has the same color and size, carried Vera Franklin from Marwayne the full 10 seconds. I cussed old Blue Mountain for falling down on his reputation, till I was informed of my mistake. Geronimo is a good bucker but lacks the real high powered pitching and tricks that make Blue Mountain lose his riders.

Grizzly Anne, a new bucker, gave Bill Sands a rough time, twisty and fast on her feet, she allowed Bill to ride out the bell then he left the saddle. I have a dirty suspicion it was not on the big winner's free choice. Sands took a few bad slides but still came in total points as top winner in the two-day event with take home pay of $162.

Charming Billy, a squatty deep chestnut, was drawn by Tommy Evjen of Williams Lake, B.C. This horse put up a good show but Tommy stuck to the resin and leather for 10 seconds. This lad, who never sleeps at any rodeo, enters every event and took home $118 prize money.

Vern Franklin from Marwayne drew Blue Mountain and would have been with the top three big winners but Blue Mountain, fighting hard to hold his record, and with good solid ground on this second day, bust wide open at the eight second mark and handed Vern a goose egg with only one second more to go. A good rider on a real horse; although my sympathies are always with the horse, I was a trifle sorry for the rider, but Vern stayed on top four seconds longer than any previous rider.

Harvey Nercette, a new rider in these precints, drew a dud on his first horse, got a second chance on a re-ride but apparently the horse he got did not give him enough points to score a clear win.

Indian Scout, a big Suffolk punch entire horse, gave Eddy Wain in the saddle bronc a lot of points in as vicious a demonstration of power twist bucking as was seen at rodeo. Eddy rode out the bell and was neatly picked off by Rossie McDonald, Whereat Indian Scout hit out to devour everything in his path but was only prevented from doing so by a five barred iron muzzle for just such an emergency.

There were four near accidents but none serious. Once a bucking horse struck a soft spot and took a head-over-heels sommersault but the rider scrambled to safety in a hairsbreadth escape.

Two other riders grabbed a top rail when their horse dived into the calf roping chutes and fell back over as they charged the fence. It would be advisable for the committee to place gates on these openings to prevent a recurrence of these narrow escapes. Only quick thinking and agility prevented a serious mishap.

Willie Ladacuer of South Hylo, riding Little Red, spurred his horse too high on the neck, his horse ducked under him and left Willie in the dirt but clipped him on the needle as he bucked away from his rider. Left Willie inert on the ground but not for long. A half hour later Willie was fighting to stay aboard another bucker he got in a re-ride.

Muskeg Beauty, with Harry Dizarlais on top, put up a good show in the bare back riding in a thrilling eight second exhibition. However I judge that Muskeg did not like the soft ground and did not indulge his usual back sliding gymnastics that always unseated his riders in both last year's rodeos.

Dirty Gerty struck a nob when Ted Matine rode out the eight seconds of Dirty's worst. A fine bucker and top notch riding.

Space does not allow mention of all the riders and horses but take it from me, these horses are no old farmers' plugs, they have everything it takes and the riders take everything they have got and come up smiling, even if dirt does cover their grins. Sports and good follows all. A wonderful show and well worth the time and effort that the Plamondon people put into it to make it a success.

The cattle and calves roam at will over 10,000 acres of free range & are only rounded up to pick out the best from a 125 head. Wild and untamed, the calves run like fury and dodge the best ropers. In 20 tries only five ropers qualified.

Gail Horner a kid from Marwayne, only 16 years of age, deserves mention for his remarkable riding and the fact that he competes against seasoned riders and asks for no favors. Though he got a goose egg in one of his rides, he got a mighty acclaim from the audience. He rides 'em pretty, so let's watch Gail Horner's name in the next few years of amatuer rodeo shows.

The Homemaker

SUGGESTIONS FOR FREEZING

It will soon be time to fill the freezer with foods for the coming winter. The food you take out can be not better than what you put in.

B. McCutcheon

1. Wrapping papers. For the best results choose ones that are moisture-vapor proof and contain an oxygen barrier. It should be pliable and strong (the manufacturer should state this on the packages). Butcher paper is poor. Ones that are good—
   (a) Coated paper with liquid plastic on one side and wax on the other. (Labelled as "freezer paper" or "Freezer Wrap"). Wax coated papers are best used for overwrapping. They are not satisfactory for foods to be frozen longer than two weeks.
   (b) Laminated paper—these are more expensive, but are better for a longer storage period.
   (c) Freezer Foil and Saran Wrap—tend to puncture easily and should be overwrapped. Clean old nylon or cotton stockings are good.
2. Packing materials—boxes such as the kind they use in locker plants. These should be wax lined or be plastic coated with tight fitting lids.
3. Bags—pliofilm and other plastic type bags come in various sizes and shapes. Be sure the bags you use have no holes in them (do not use most of the bags used for vegetables because they have holes so the fresh vegetables can breathe).
4. Wire twisters to seal plastic bags are good. Elastic bands deteriorate over a period of time, so it is best not to use them. An electric iron, set at a low temperature, can be used for sealing purposes.
5. Gummed Freezer Tape will hold in the moist atmosphere of the freezer and is recommended. Other types of tapes may undo in a period of time.
6. Grease Pencil used for marking doesn't smudge or blur. Tags can be used to tie on packages that can't be marked with a grease pencil.
7. Aluminum foil containers can be used for casseroles, pies, cakes, etc.
8. Plan ahead so that your freezer space and the food you want to freeze balance. Freeze home produce first in order to ensure having enough room for it. Need what you freeze.
9. Most fruits freeze quite well. Bananas and pears are not recommended for freezing.
0. Asorbic Acid (also known as Vitamin C) will help prevent darkening of fruits. The power form is recommended above the liquid form. Use according to directions on the package.
11. Use a timetable to ensure good products. Blanching is important and it is especially necesary to follow the timetable here.
12. Leave expansion space in packing the product to be frozen. The average is ½" to 2" depending on kind of product. Again consult the book.
13. The secret of cooking frozen vegetables is to cook only until tender in the smallest amount of boiling water.
14. The dry gray surface on some meats is called "Freezer Burn". This occurs only where the package has been torn or if air has entered the package.
15. Meats should not be refrozen if they have completely thawed. Refreezing may destroy some of the quality and the meat is also more susceptible to spoilage.
16. Draw poultry before freezing.
17. Avoid high seasonings. Add these at serving time.
18. Refreezing fruits may make them mushy and suitable only for pies. It is recommended not to refreeze anything that has completely thawed.

There are many more points to freezing. There is a booklet "Preserve by Freezing" that is available free from this office.

Pauline Kolmatycki, Alex Tymo Exchange Vows At St. George's

SARRAIL — Wedding vows were pledged at the St. George's church in Edmonton on Aug. 4 by Miss Pauline Kolmatyski and Mr. Alex Tymo. Pauline is the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kolmatycki of Frains and Alex is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Tymo of Twinspruce.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of white lace, styled with an empire waist and full skirt. Lily-pointed sleeves complemented the pearl and rhinestone neckline. A rhinestone crown held the elbow-length veil. Her bouquet was of red roses.

Attending the bride were three bridesmaids and a flower girl. The bridesmaids wore yellow chiffon dresses and the flower girl was charming in a white chiffon frock. All wore matching headpieces and tiny veils and carried bouquets of white roses. Their jewelry was crystal necklace and earrings, gift of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Victoria Tymo, sister of the groom, Miss Beverly Blacklock, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nadia Greschuk, friend of the bride. Gloria Kolmatycki, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Paul Kolmatycki, brother of the bride, Mr. Eddy Hewko, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Dave Pusarski, friends of the groom. All wore black suits and white ties, gift of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kolmatycki chose an orange embossed dress and corsage of red roses.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Tymo wore an embossed lilac chiffon dress with red roses en corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Grassland Community Centre.

A three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table. Many beautiful gifts and a purse of money were presented to the young couple.

Music was supplied by the Dominos. Friends and relatives of the happy couple enjoyed themselves until the early hours of the morning.

Bayview

Mr. and Mrs. Mallas of British Columbia are visiting the Art Varin Sr. residence. In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Gibby Gudmonson have left for British Columbia. Garry Gravelle of Vancouver is spending the summer holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Art Varin Sr.

Miss Julia Barranoik of Boyle is spending her holidays at the Kamelchuk and Mischuk homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Varin Jr. are now occupying the former residence of Mrs. F. Jeanes.

Mrs. Morris Smith of Hylo visited the Louis Rochon family on a recent Sunday.

Mike Kamelchuk of Prosperity was visiting this district recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kamelchuk have returned to their lake cottage from the trip to the west coast via Seattle, Wash., where they spent a few days at the World's Fair. Worthy of mention are the beautiful fruit orchards of Wenatchee, Wash., Stanley Park in Vancouver and the breath-taking mountainous scenery throughout most of the trip and especially the new Roger's Pass between Revelstoke and Golden, B.C.

Remember how much those school books used to weigh? Research has licked the weight problem of books for astro-scientists. They could take the equivalent of eight tons of books into orbit in a 90-pound microfilm package.

Farm Accidents Claim 110 Lives, Safety Week Report Discloses

In a report concerning Farm Safety Week, which was observed last week in Canada and the United States, Mrs. Kate Esopenko said: Most of us don't pay much attention to these various "weeks." We get a bit tired of them in fact, and are inclined to think that this idea of labelling this or that week as the time we should pay special attention to one idea is a bit silly. And yet, if you stop to think about it, most of these programs are pretty sensible and well worth supporting. Fire Prevention Week, Education Week, Brotherhood Week, Mental Health Week, and so on. These are all sound and important ideas. Maybe we should do something about them. Let's not just shrug them off.

Certainly farm people need to take Farm Safety Week seriously. The farm accident list for Alberta in 1961 has a pretty sobering effect on anyone. One hundred and ten farm people died in accidents in Alberta last year; 34 of them died on the highway, but 76 of them died right on the farm, or when they were operating farm machinery. The farm tractor, as usual, was the big killer, with 27 victims, 15 on the highway and 12 on the field. But there were many other kinds of accidents too. Falls accounted for six deaths, fire for eight more, nine were drowned, animals killed three, one was struck by lightning, which was probably the only unavoidable death in the whole 110, four persons were shot and six died from various other causes.

The great tragedy is that a number of the victims are children. One farm fatality out of six is a child under 10. And one out of four is between 10 and 19 years of age. This is the age when driving a tractor on the highway is dangerous. Over one-third of those killed by a tractor on a highway are between 10 and 20 years of age. These are pretty grim figures, and they make it quite plain that Farm Safety Week is not something that someone dreamed up just to give them a job. In fact, almost all of the Farm Safety Committees in Alberta are people who have full-time jobs, and are members of this committee only because they think there is a job to be done here also. They get nothing out of it except a lot of hard work.

There are many ways of looking at farm accidents. There is, of course, the obvious fact that the victims, if not killed outright, suffer a great deal of pain, and many never fully recover. There is the equally obvious fact that members of their families and their close friends suffer grief and worry. I don't want to dwell on these problems. Let's just take the straight economic losses involved.

First of all, hospital bills or, if fatal cases, the burial expenses. These can be a heavy burden, coming as they do, completely unexpectedly. I have no idea what the bill would be for Alberta, but if we set it at $500 per fatal accident, this amounts to $55,000 per year.

When we remember that there are roughly 30 injuries for each death, it is easy to see that the loss for this part of accident picture could run into several thousand dollars yearly.

Finally, there is the property damage which goes with accidents. Wrecked cars or machinery, burned buildings and damaged property amount to a huge sum each year, and this we all pay for, because much of the loss is covered by insurance, and the rest of us make up the loss by way of higher premiums. During Farm Safety Week there were many reminders to farm people; posters, articles in the farm papers and magazines, spot announcements over the radio and TV and many other reminders.

None of these things by themselves will prevent accidents. The best they can do is to remind the farm people that accidents do happen, and no one ever expects them, this is why they are called accidents. But the Farm Safety Week Committee hopes that these reminders will cause us all to take a look at our own equipment, and above all, at our own work habits.

If you run over a neighbor's child, you are in serious trouble. Is there any good reason why you should not be in equal trouble if you run over one of your family? Accidents are avoided only by the use of good judgment and foresight. We hope you made extra good use of both, during the Farm Safety Week especially. You may get the habit of being careful every week of the year.

Eileen Prokopy At VSA 4-H Club Week

REDWATER — Miss Eileen Prokopy has returned from the Vermilion School of Agriculture and Home Economics where she was a delegate to the annual 4-H Club Week which was held July 15 to 21. This year the 4-H Club Week held wide interest and drew delegates from all over Alberta and four delegates from Montana.

An educational and enjoyable week was enjoyed by all. Highlighting this years program was a Candle Lighting ceremony introduced by the Montana delegates who felt would be an inspirational experience they wished to share with their Canadian counterparts.

Miss Diane Pasichney and Miss Natalka Makowecki of the Redwater 4-H Club attended the Farm Camp held at the Edmonton Exhibition which was also held the week of July 15 to 21.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Baril are shown on the eve of their depature from Bonnyville. They are holding the gift of matching luggage presented to them by their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Baril, former owners of the Bonnyville Tribune and residents of Bonnyville for the past 15 years, are presently on a two-month tour of Europe.

Marlene Werenka, Ronald Kupchanko Wed In Vegreville United Church

HAIRY HILL — Vegreville United Church was the setting for the afternoon wedding of Marlene Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Werenka, of Hairy Hill, to Ronald Alexander, Two Hills, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kupchanko of Victoria, British Columbia. Rev. C. B. Hickman officiated at the ceremony.

Wedding music was played by Shandruk's Orchestra, and Millicent Melnychuk was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a full-length gown styled with Alencon lace fitted bodice, short sleeves accented by a full, silk organza crinolined skirt. Her four-tier shoulder length bouffant veil was held in place by a crown of crystal. She wore crystal drop earrings and carried a bouquet of white orchids.

The bride was attended by Miss Pat Iftody, maid of honor, Miss Diane Werenka and Miss Audrey Zaharichuk, bridesmaids, who were dressed identically in turquoise sheaths with matching petal overskirts. They wore white flower headpieces and carried bouquets of white carnations tinted with turquoise spray. The bride's five-year-old sister, Miss Constance Werenka, was flower girl.

The groom's attendant was Mr. Marshall Dehid of Two Hills, ring bearer was Master Nicholas Ursulak. Ushers were Mr. Orest Luciak and Mr. Harvey Werenka.

The mother of the bride chose a beige and turquoise sheath with beige accessories, while the groom's mother wore a beige lace sheath with powder blue accessories.

At the reception at Two Hills Elks' Hall, the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Mr. Dan Chrapko, master of ceremonies, proposed the toast to the bride.

After a wedding trip to Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kupchanko will make their home in Two Hills.

John Wilson, 80, Lives On Farm He Homesteaded 50 Years Ago

REDWATER — Friends, family and fellow old-timers gathered at the farm home of John Wilson in the Redwater district for a surprise party in honor of Mr. Wilson's 80th birthday on July 20. One of the early pioneers, he is well-known in the Redwater district.

Mr. Wilson was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., USA, on July 20, 1882. At an early age he went to Scotland with his Scottish-born parents and then as a young man he emigrated to Canada and to Edmonton. In Edmonton he met and married a Scots lass he had known in Scotland. In those early days he worked on the Grand Trunk Railroad which was linking the west with the rest of the world. Later he went to work for Swift Canadian Company and then in 1908 he took up his homestead in the district of Eastgate near Redwater where he has remained since that time.

Mr. Wilson was four children. His eldest daughter Catherine was almost a birthday present for her father as their birthdays are very close. She is married to Jim Shaw and makes her home at Coronado. His son Andrew lives in Edmonton where he is employed by the provincial government in the land titles department. He is married to the former Constance Fitzalan of Edmonton. Mr. Wilson's second daughter Nettie is married to Clinton Johnson and they make their home in Calgary. The youngest son, John Alexander, better known as Sandy, has taken over the family farm where he built a new home for his wife, the former Betty Petherbridge.

Mr. Wilson has four grandchildren, James and Ellen Shaw, and Norman and Shirley Johnson. James was unable to attend his grandfather's birthday party because his wife had just given birth to Mr. Wilson's first great grandson. Miss Ellen Shaw was absent from the celebration as she is currently visiting the British Isles and Europe.

A buffet supper was served to Mr. Wilson's guests. Gracing the head table was an exceptionally beautiful and unique birthday cake which was decorated to depict a bit of the Wilson family history. In tracing the family tree it was found that some of the Wilson ancestors came from Ireland so in one corner of the cake was a shamrock, in a second corner the stars and stripes of the American flag; in another the Scotch thistle and lastly the Canadian maple leaf. Mr. Wilson was the recipient of many gifts, cards and good wishes.

Hale and amazingly active for all his 80 years, Mr. Wilson is still an active worker on the family farm. Mrs. Wilson passed away 10 years ago and Mr. Wilson makes his home with Sandy and Betty Wilson on the farm he chose over 50 years ago.

Pilgrimage To Lac Ste. Anne Annual Affair For Group

BONNYVILLE — Five bus loads of Indian boys and girls from reserves throughout this area heading for the annual pilgrimage at Lac Ste. Anne stopped over night at the Vezeau Beach Campsite at Moose Lake.

The multitude of snowy white tents in orderly rows was an impressive sight in the early evening light.

The caravan of buses was on the road again in the early morning of the next day. Lac Ste. Anne, their destination, is about 50 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Iron River Child Revived After Near Drowning In Tank

IRON RIVER — A near tragedy on the farm of Alex Kalinski turned out to have a happy ending. Little 15-month-old Dwain wandered off by himself and somehow fell into the stock watering tank.

When found he was unconscious, but when Mr. Kalinski applied mouth to mouth respiration he revived the child. He was then rushed to Bonnyville Hospital.

The officials of the hospital say he will be fine and ready to go home in a few days. Iron River is a farming district about 18 miles southeast of Bonnyville.

Mrs. R. G. Powers, Mrs. O. Keryluke Return From Peace Meet At Moscow

Mrs. R. G. Powers, national vice-president of the Voice of Women, and Mrs. O. Keryluke, vice-president of the EdmontonVOW, have returned home after attending the World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace held recently in Moscow.

As observers for the Planning Committee for the World Conference of Women for International Co-operation Year, the women had the opportunity to talk with many women from many countries. They returned home with the feeling that the protection of mankind rests with the Voice of Women and that today they are accepting the challenge.

The World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace surpassed all estimates in the number of countries represented, the number of delegates attending, the cross section of peoples and professions expressing opinions and the voice of women rising to demand disarmament and peace.

Twenty-four hundred and sixty-nine delegates, guests and observers from 121 countries took part in the congress and expressed many points of view. One third were women.

The professions of the delegates, etc. were 340 scientists, 105 journalists, 170 lawyers, 128 medical workers, 100 writers, 88 artists, 142 students, 57 clergymen, 76 merchants and large land owners, 166 workers, 48 peasants and technicians, economists, service men and housewives. The clergymen included the Patriarch Alexii of the USSR; a Roman Catholic bishop from Hungary; a Catholic priest from Cuba; another from South America; Anglican vicars; United Church ministers; one Chinese Christian minister from the Chinese People's Republic; Buddhists; pastors from Austria, Finland and Norway and other religious denominations.

Practically all countries in the world were represented, many delegates being representatives from their governments. These government representatives were from countries in many different parts of the world. There were 200 members of parliament from various governments. One Nobel Peace Prize winner and 33 Lenin Peace Prize winners. There were 75 official press correspondents representing 226 foreign news media.

The largest delegation came from the United States, 190. Other delegations included Brazil, 174; Great Britain, 142; India, 130; France, 118; Argentina, 105; Japan, 104; USSR, 101 ;Canada, 54; Finland, 38; United Arab Republic, 16; Belgium, 15; Norway, 15; Chinese People's Republic, 14; Mongolia, 3 and others.

The women' 754 strong, held their own meetings on Friday and Saturday. A committee with members from Great Britain, China, France, USSR, USA, Nigeria and Switzerland drew up a declaration which was thoroughly discussed.

This declaration will sound familiar to all Voice of Women members and is as follows:

We women, of all continents gathered in Moscow at the World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace, where we comprise one third of the participants, have met together on July 13 and 14, 1962, to determine how we as women can help in the attainment of disarmament and the establishment of peace. As mothers and educationalists we must take immediate steps.

We represent many millions of women who, like ourselves, realize that thermonuclear war would largely destroy life on our planet. Meanwhile the radioactive fallout from testing of nuclear weapons is contaminating earth, land, seas and foodstuffs, endangering the health of the people and future generations.

We believe that general disarmament can prevent such a catastrophe. We, therefore, demand that all the nuclear powers conclude an agreement, to ban now and forever testing of all types of nuclear weapons.

We also demand the prohibition of the production of these and all other weapons of mass destruction within the framework of general disarmament. Then it will be possible to divert the vast resources spent on arms toward the well-being of the peoples.

In order to achieve this end it is essential that we draw into the struggle for disarmament and peace ever increasing numbers of women and women's organizations. Let each one of us, determined to defend the happiness of her family and the future of her children, pledge herself to convince other women that they should act at once for peace, using methods suitable to their particular country. Let these women in turn undertake to draw into joint action still other women, and we shall be able to act effectively for general disarmament and peace. With this chain reaction of life we shall victoriously oppose the chain reaction causing nuclear death.

We call on all women's organizations and women's movements for peace to act determinedly with the peace forces of their countries for general disarmament and for the education of children and youth in the spirit of peace and friendship.

Long live the united action of the women of the world for the protection of mankind.

Owl River

A series of three enjoyable barn dances in the large barn of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig J. Diesel were climaxed by the last one which was sponsored by the highways department workers who have been here all spring and summer building a road. Midnight lunch was served and the dance lasted until daylight. The workers will be missed in this community as they are moving to a new location.

Cecil Shaffer is home again after a stay in St. Catherine's Hospital, Lac la iBche, where he underwent major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Schooie visited at the home of her mother, Mrs. Pat Shaffer over the recent long weekend.

Too much rain is delaying the hay making and ruining some of it here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ray Sr. are in Edmonton on business and to visit friends there.

Miss Jacqueline Lee Diesel of McMurray spent three weeks of the summer holidays visiting relatives here.
